Soapstone

Are you seeking a beautiful, durable, naturally non-porous countertop that requires no maintenance? Look no further; a soapstone countertop is timelessly elegant, cleans up easily with soap and water, doesn't stain, and is not affected by chemicals, acids or heat. Soapstone is regularly chosen for scientific laboratories because of its durability and non-porous nature. Browse our selection of soapstone slabs and start envisioning soapstone in your home.

Travertine

Travertine is uniquely combined with cement before it is smoothed and polished to provide a more uniform surface much like its granite and marble counterparts. Its honed natural finish is ideal for both commercial and residential countertop use. Travertine comes in both tile and slab forms to meet your preferences. With over 10 travertine colors to choose from, you are sure to find the right travertine color to match your home or commercial space. Its smooth and durable surface provides an optimal surface in combination with its natural visual appeal.
